

South Dakota Career Peeks

Take a peek at . . .

Computer programmers write the step-by-step instructions that tell computers how to do things. They write many types of programs, from those used in business to computer games. These programs are written in a special language or code which computers can read.

Continue the patterns by drawing the shapes that would come next.

what you can become!

